"Behind the Scenes" at Victor.

The inimitable Mary Pickford has a delightful characterization, that of an actress in the Paramount drama of theatrical life, "Behind the Scenes," by Margaret Mayo, which will be shown at the Victor Theater tomorrow. Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Behind the Scenes" is an absorbing play that contrasts the drama of life with the glamour of the stage. It is human throughout, and depicts the struggle of a little soubrette for theatrical fame, and her great sacrifice for love just when success is within réach. An ultra-Bohemian, Parisian cafe of trical fame, and her great sacrifice for love just when success is within reach. An ultra-Bohemian, Parisian cafe of the Latin Quarter was built in the Metro studios for the staging of scenes in "Revelation," the great Nazimove's initial starring vehicle under the Metro banner, which is the attraction at the Victor Theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The spacious setting representing "The Cabaret of the Three Delights"—wine, women and song—brought the exotic Bohemian atmosphere of a gay Parisian cafe to the Metro studio.

The jolly "frequenters" draink and smoked at scores of tables in carefree revelry, while waiters scurried about dispensing drinks. At the bar in the rear were gathered Apaches and other denizens of the unconventional Latin Quarter.

Mack Sennett's famous funsters, headed by Ford Sterling, Louise Fadenza and Phyllis Haver, in "Hearts and Flowers," is the added attraction.

Parasite Burrows Beneath Skin.

The harvest bug is a minute, reddish parasite which burrows beneath the skin, usually of the wrist, and produces small wheals, somewhat like hives. These wheals burn and itch intolerably, and may last for a week or more. The harvest bug operates mostly in the late simmer. The bost treatment of the bites is to apply half strength sulphur ointment or the ointment of ammoniated mercury.

In a case of venomous snake bite a cord should at once be tied around the limb above the wound to keep the poison out of the general circulation.

"He Made a Mistake"

A few days since a new-made friend was asked by us—"why he had not purchased his furniture from SYDNOR & HUNDLEY?"

"Well," said he, "indeed I should liked to have done so, but it was necessary for us to get rather cheap goods, and, too, to get the benefit of the terms offered by another dealer which were interesting.'

"Sure, I knew about you, but I didn't think I could afford to buy your kind of Furniture."

Well, that's the way a great many people think about Sydnor & Hundley—scared off because the bulk of our furnishings are the best to be had.

If this good man had come and seen the great variety of all grades and learned that our "terms" are just and liberal, he would have in his home today furnishings that conduce to joy and comfort.
